Gdium Liberty

The Ultimate Netbook

Linux Operating System with over 50 Open Source applications

► Combining innovative architecture entrenched in the open-source world, an elegant and stylish design, with added security and mobility with the G-Key, Gdium is an ultraportable computer that is one of the cornerstones of a wider environment dedicated to knowledge, communication and learning.

► Gdium features a Linux Operating System, over 50 Open Source applications, a removable G-Key storage device, multimedia functions including a webcam, and is packed in a reusable file box.

- Real web display: Gdium includes a 10-inch LCD screen with a 1024 x 600 resolution, ideal for surfing the web without horizontal scrolling.
- Linux and Open Source: Gdium comes with an intuitive, user-friendly and elegant interface that you can easily customize. Gdium is pre-loaded with over 50 Open Source applications that allow you to read, create, modify and save all your standard files in the popular and usual file formats. The applications include Open Office, Evince, Firefox, Thunderbird, MSN, BlogTK, Totem, The Gimp, Amanda, Nautilus, ClamAv, Spam Assassin and many more!
- Optimal form factor: Gdium is comfortable to use, equipped with a slim, soft touch keyboard and multi-finger touchpad. Also lightweight, Gdium weighs just 2.6 lbs.
- Full mobility: You are free to move around as you like with a Wi-Fi connection.
- Integrated multimedia functions: Webcam, speakers, instant messaging, audio and video players.
- G-Key: Your G-Key stores all your personal files and the applications you need to work, communicate and play! The G-Key contains the Linux operating system, applications and your personal data. By having one G-Key per user, your information is secure and confidential, with no trace of your personal data being left on the Gdium itself. Purchase multiple G-Keys and share your Gdium with other users!
- Color choices: The Gdium Liberty is available in matte black, glossy white and glossy pink.
